

LIZ SPEAR

Sewing Your Handwoven Fabric

March 16th, 18th & 19th, 2012

3 Days - $175.00 + Materials Fee

Intermediate Sewing Skills Required

lizspearhandwoven.com

This Workshop is Sponsored by

Rocky Mountain Weavers Guild

SEWING YOUR HANDWOVEN FABRIC

- Move past the bog jacket and shawl with your handwoven fabric and learn to cut and successfully sew a jacket, shirt, or vest
- Using pre-workshop suggestions and guidelines you'll select a pattern appropriate for your fabric
- Cutting, marking, seam finishes, interfacing, pressing, buttons and linings will be demonstrated as you sew through the steps to your new handwoven garment
- Creative collaborations with other textile artists will be discussed at length
- Intermediate sewing skills required, personal sewing machines are preferred

ABOUT ME: LIZ SPEAR

- I'm a weaver of cloth and maker of classic, comfortable garments
- I've been a full-time studio craftsman for over 30 years based in Western North Carolina since 1992
- After completing the Professional Crafts Program at Haywood Community College in 1995, I developed a line of handwoven clothing marketed through the Southern Highlands Craft Guild, Piedmont Craftsmen, Inc. and Carolina Designer Craftsmen Guild
- In addition, I teach weaving and sewing of handwoven fabrics at various craft schools: Penland, Arrowmont, John C. Campbell Folk School, and Appalachian Center for Craft

